

Carryology Exploring better ways to carry

Carryology.com

June 15, 2010

Featuring: The Fall 2010 Osprey 24/7 Pack Series, FlapJill Mini, and FlapJill Pack

URL: <http://tinyurl.com/3yopr8s>

Undoubtedly riding off the success of their Flap series of casual daypacks (which we are in the process of road testing), Osprey is introducing the 24/7 Series for the FW 2010 season. The Colorado based manufacturer is most well known for their epic technical packs, but have found a niche in travel bags, and now, the urban-inspired day pack market.

All 24/7 packs get the usual urban features like laptop and tunes pockets, removable waist belts, and more grab handles. But what you also get is Osprey's attention to detail, giving much better than average straps and back systems.

There are six bags in the Series that range in size from 12L (Orb) to Quantum (34L). In addition, Osprey will debut two new women's-specific bags in the Flap series – the Flap Jill Pack Large and Flap Jill Mini.

MSRP: $59 to $99.

